 A ROUND OF TALK. ***

Summer in January.

We've got a weather bureau; that's what the white folks say. But they put it in the attic. An' I guess they'll leave it stay. Dat's de reason dis Jan'uary, Seems so backward like an' slow, We'st ain't summer weather. Dat was wate out long ago!
It ain't got any trimmings; Such as flowers an' butterflies; It's gone clean out o' fashion, An' we'st done outgrown de size. So, Mistah Weather Prophet, Please c'lar away dis doubt. Jas look back in dat beean drawer, An' fetch a col' wave out!

McCreary With President.

A dispatch from Washington says: Senator McCreary created great surprise here by coming out in defense of the President in the Brownsville affair. Senator Blackburn, the Democratic leader, had counted Senator McCreary against the President. In an interview carefully dictated Senator McCreary said: "I believe that the President did right to dismiss without honor the three colored companies of the twenty-fifth Infantry, and that the facts justify him in doing so. There are three coordinate branches of our government, legislative, executive and judicial, and if the resolution now pending in the Senate known as the 'Foraker resolution' seeks to investigate the President's action in dismissing these troops, I am opposed to that part of it."
"I do not believe that one department of the government has a right to investigate another department. The three coordinate departments are independent in their respective spheres except as provided in the constitution of the United States."

Cured of Lung Trouble.

"It is now eleven years since I had a narrow escape from consumption," writes C. O. Floyd, a leading business man of Kentucky. "I had run down in weight to 125 pounds, and coughing was constant both by day and by night. Finally I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery and continued this for six months, when my cough and lung trouble were entirely gone and I was restored to my normal weight of 170 pounds. Thousands of persons are healed every year. Guaranteed at C. J. Haydon's drug store, 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free."

Wanted a Good Judge.

The reason given out from Frankfort for the appointment of such a man as Bill Barnes to try the Hargis case is the scarcity of able lawyers who would accept such an appointment. From our knowledge of good lawyers this is not so. No first class lawyer would want the appointment to try such a case under the conditions and with the surroundings. First class lawyers are conscientious men and when called upon to do such work would not shrink. They would think it a matter of duty to secure to accept. For instance here is Hon. J. P. O'Meara, of Elizabethtown, he

For that Dandruff
There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. would not want the appointment, but we know the man well enough to know, that he would accept it. He is perfectly fearless, perfectly impartial and there is no better criminal lawyer in this part of Kentucky. There is in most of the counties men like Mr. O'Meara and Gov. Beckham would have no trouble to find them, if he was looking for lawyers instead of politicians.

Wise Cured From the South.

"I want to give some valuable advice to those who suffer with lame back and kidney trouble," says J. R. Blankenship, of Beck, Tenn. "I have proved to an absolute certainty that E. C. E. Bitters will positively cure this distressing condition. The first bottle gave me great relief and after taking a few more bottles, I was completely cured; so completely that it becomes a pleasure to recommend that great remedy. Sold under guarantee at C. J. Haydon's drug store. Price 50c."

Foolish Man.

When you begin to think that you are the only real thing that ever happened, just cut this out and past it in your hat. Man is a funny case and hasn't long to stay, he lies around and makes a fuss and then hies away. Some men imagine that they are great and try to tear old Jack, but each meets the same old fate, and the same old thing. Great Caesar is dead and turned to clay, so is Cicero and Alexander's gods the way the rest of us must go. The sages, heroes, poets, all the men of wealth and worth, in an open grave must fall and crumble back to earth.

Sheep Killing Dogs.

The farmers of this county are having much trouble with sheep killing dogs and all orthodox canines found loitering in the country will be instantly killed. Mr. Coleman Roach reports that on Monday night dogs got after his sheep, and, after chasing them for some time, finally succeeded in killing one. The way to stop this practice is to kill the dogs.

LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

Condemned Cows.

On January 5, N. B. McCluskey, of Nelson county, brought to this place and sold at public auction twelve head of Jersey milk cows. The cows were bought by different citizens about town who appeared to be pleased with their bargains. Mr. McCluskey came up a few days after the sale and visiting the purchasers of the cows made the statement that, he had since learned five of the herd had been condemned by the State Veterinarian and offered to take all of the cows back and refund the money. The purchasers were so well satisfied with their bargains however that they declined to give up the cows without further investigation and Mr. McCluskey succeeded in getting only two of the cows back. In the meantime however Dr. J. B. Roberts who is Secretary of the Washington County Board of Health got in communication with the State Board of Health and the following official letter which is self explanatory is the result.
Louisville, Ky., Jan. 18, 1907.
Dr. J. B. Roberts, Secy. Washington County Medical Society, Springfield, Ky.
Dear Doctor:—This is to notify you that I have been informed by what I consider a very reliable source, that one Muir McCluskey sold some Jersey cows to parties in and about Springfield, and that the cows referred to are those condemned because of showing tubercular reaction of a herd recently tested for Dr. Ben McCluskey of Wakefield Station. If it proves to be a fact that these cows are those referred to, they should be sent back immediately to Dr. McCluskey's place, as they are considered condemned. The doctor has no right to dispose of these cows except to be sent to a public abattoir where they are to be slaughtered subject to federal or state inspection. If possible please ascertain as to whether or not these cows were sold as healthy animals. Your prompt attention will confer favor.
Very Respectfully,
F. T. EISENBERG,
State Veterinarian.

Big Land Sale.

Master Commissioner W. T. Spalding last Monday, sold under decree of the Circuit Court in the case of James B. Stone, & the late wife, against Annie H. Stone, &c., defendants, the Davis Stone farm, near Bloomfield; also, a tract containing 70 acres, the property of Annie H. Stone. The first named tract contained 570 acres and was purchased by Mr. E. M. Vance at $15.50 per acre. This is the old Isaac Stone place and is known as one of the best farms in Nelson county. The 70 acre tract was purchased by the stone heirs at $25.50 per acre. Capt. T. D. English, of Danville, was the auctioneer. Mr. Spalding also sold in Taylorville on the 7th inst., 110 acres, of land lying in Spencer county and belonging to Stone estate to Mrs. Sarah Lewis for $1,800. The place is known as the Thomas Stone farm, a Standard.

Didn't Know it was Loaded.

Washington county furnished another victim of the "didn't know it was loaded idiot." John the little ten year old son of John Linton, of color, is the victim and John Wakefield, a 17 year old negro is the idiot. The affair occurred at the home of John Keen, who lives about a mile out from Springfield, on last Wednesday night. Wakefield, who it seems has acquired the habit of "killing a gun" at the house where he was gathered several young negroes and had produced his revolver and was engaged in cleaning and oiling it. After he had oiled it he proceeded to pull the trigger remarking at the same time that there were no loads in the pistol. The results show that he was badly mistaken, however for an explosion, followed by a cry from the Linton boy indicated the tragedy. The bullet had found a lodgment in the side of the victim and the child died in a short time. So far as we learn no one has been arrested. It seems to us that the affair is at least worthy of an investigation and that the Wakefield boy should be taught a lesson on the evil of handling a pistol.

Receiving.

The first of the tobacco which is in the pool of A. S. of E. was received at Mr. John Y. Mayes' barn near town Monday. It was not expected to receive any tobacco until next Monday on account of some details not having been fully arranged as yet, but some of the members had walked their crops and it was in such shape that it had to be moved and in a place to accommodate these arrangements were made for receiving the tobacco earlier.

PLANS OUTLINED.

Growers Who Have Pooled Their Tobacco Are Told of Plans for Handling It.

A large crowd of tobacco growers of the county who have pooled their crops with the American Society of Equity and who are consequently anxious to learn of the plans proposed for receiving the tobacco, assembled at the Court House here on last Saturday afternoon.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. W. C. McChord and Judge I. H. Thurman and the growers learned more of the details of the plans which are to govern the operations of the pool than they had known before. The tobacco is to be received and handled by the Washington County Tobacco Warehouse Co., which is the new company formed for the purpose of building a warehouse to take care of future crops of the members of the A. S. of E. in this county.

This company has enough stock subscribed to enable it to erect a warehouse sufficiently large to store all of the tobacco grown by members of the society in the county. For the present season the company has rented several barns in the vicinity of Springfield to receive the tobacco.

It was made clear by the speakers at the meeting on Saturday that it will be decided to the advantage of each grower to take care of his own crop at home and await the selling time. For a grower who does not need the money and who has ample barn room this is decidedly the best plan. For those members of the pool who are in need of money for immediate needs the Society through the Warehouse company will take care of their crops. A bookkeeper and a grader have been employed and crops are to be received as fast as possible and in rotation on the days allotted to the different growers.

This tobacco is to be received at valued according to grade and each owner will be paid according to the grade of his crop.
Each owner is to receive a warehouse receipt for his crop which shows the number of pounds and a grade. The owner of these receipts may receive a loan on them not to exceed five cents a pound on the number of pounds in his crop.

All of the expenses of the handling and storing of this tobacco in these temporary warehouses are to be borne by the tobacco owners. These expenses include the interest on money borrowed, rent of warehouse, salary of grader, salary of bookkeeper, insurance on tobacco, wages to hands in handling and other incidental expenses. Those growers who take care of their tobacco at home of course will not be called on to share any of this expense. Each individual owner will be paid in full at disposition of the tobacco, strictly according to quality.

If he has a high grade crop he will get the higher price, but a man with a fine crop of commodity tobacco need not expect to share in the proceeds from the sale of the fifteen cent crop of his neighbor simply because he is in the pool.

These are a few of the facts which were explained at the meeting on last Saturday and gathered them from reliable sources. The tobacco growers should be fully acquainted with the workings of the pool so that they may know just what to expect when he goes into it. As to the final disposition of the tobacco thus pooled as we understand it and the sale of it is left entirely to the head of the Burley Branch of the A. S. of E. Every individual owner relinquishes his right to have a voice in the final sale.

BUTTON MAD.

The Height of the Craze in the Time of Louis XIV.
The oldest buttons at present in the museums and among the collections are the gold buttons discovered at Mycenae at the time of the excavations undertaken by Dr.
Schliemann and also those found in the tomb of Childeric I. The latter were exhibited at the Louvre in the Musée des Souverains. They are made of gold and of steel, glass imitating garnet. Buttons detached from copes and religious garments of the middle ages and of the renaissance have also been discovered.

But the richest things of the kind beyond a doubt are those that were worn by Louis XIV. M. Mase-Sen-dor in the "Register of Diamonds and Presents to the King," at present preserved in the ministry of foreign affairs, gives an official account of the buttons of that pompous sovereign. It is as follows:

"Feb. 3, 1685.—Montargy presented to the king eighty diamond buttons, valued at 180,000 livres.
"May 7, 1685.—Made and delivered by Sieur Boes six diamond buttons, 30,000 livres.

"July 26, 1685.—Handed over by Montargy to the Marquis de Seignelay for the king seventy-five diamond buttons, 58,750 livres.

"Aug. 1, 1685.—Two diamond buttons, 67,866 livres.

"Aug. 16, 1685.—Three diamond
buttons, 59,660 livres.

"Dec. 20, 1685.—Four diamond
buttons, 83,775 livres.

Another item in the same year:
"July 26, 1685.—Furnished by Montargy for the king's vest, forty-eight gold buttons, each with a diamond, and ninety-six clasps, forty-eight of which were composed of five diamonds each and forty-eight of one diamond each, 185,115 livres.

"Also 384 clasps for the doublet of the king, 162 of which were formed of five diamonds each and 162 of one diamond each, 1,006,545 livres.

"In addition there were seven ornamental clasps of three diamonds each, 201,270 livres.

"The preceding year Louis XIV. received a set of buttons that were valued at 1,071,000 livres. In these enumerations there is no mention of the diamonds for the shoes, the cuffs and the hats of the monarch.

We are obliged to admit, with our coats and overcoats garnished with miserable little cloth and bone affairs, we cut a poor figure in the fine button business compared to the dukes of the days of Louis XIV.

Where Brides Are Hungry.
How would a bride in this country care to fast on her wedding day until after the sacred ceremony, and then enduring the hardships of a farewell party given the day before? Yet this is what a Russian girl is supposed to do. As the marriage, to be fashionable, should not occur until evening, it may easily be imagined in what an exhausted state she is to commence her new period of life. Besides bridesmaids, there are brides, the latter being obliged to present the bride-maids with sweetmeats. A personage follows the procession bearing an elegantly mounted picture of a bride and groom, which is stationed against the altar. The bride-maids do not all dress alike, and their number is unlimited—

His Way of Pairing.
A number of years ago at a small town in Maine an important local election was to take place, and there was strong rivalry between the Republicans and Democrats. Old Hiram Morse, the blacksmith, was a strong Democrat, but many of the farmers were Republicans. On the morning of the election a farmer came to have his horse shod. The blacksmith said to him: "We're both yours. You're a Republican, and I'm a Democrat. Let's pair off. We'll neither of us vote, and it will amount to the same as if both went to the polls." This was agreed upon.
After election it was found out that Morse had paired off with five Republican farmers.

Many's More in Christmas Remembrance.
After arriving home from Brighton, Wis. where he had been doing some Christmas shopping, Chairman W. K.
Reinhold of Denmark carefully slipped into a side door with his arms filled with bundles, went to a locked room where he had set up a Christmas tree, and started unwrapping packages to hang their contents on the tree. The first one he opened looked strange, but he went at it. He expected to find a doll for his niece. Instead, to his horror, he discovered the naked body of a dead child. The wife of one of the farmers some one had put the ghastly bundle in the rear of his carriage, and he had not noticed it.

Perished in Drying Vat.
While working in a huge vat at the Mountain Bleach and Dye works at Millville, N. J., Leon Croft was hor-ribly and probably fatally scalded.
Croft had crawled through the manhole into the vat to arrange some gears preparatory to steaming them, when a valve in one of the large pipes burst, and a stream of boiling water and steam fell upon him. The young man gave one scream and then lost consciousness. Before his fellow workmen could stop the flow of scalding water he was literally perished.

Found Life Tied in Lump of Coal.
John Savage of Buck Hill, Md., a miner in the Enterprise mine, greatly astonished when in breaking a small lump of coal he saw a live toad jump out and hop around his feet. The hole which the toad had been in was not large enough to permit any exercise on his part. It is supposed the batrachian creature had got himself into the hole in the ground and went to sleep.

A Thousand Drillers Worth of Gold H. H. Thurman, a well known local operator of Buffalo, O., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel and stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure, then the results were surprising. A few doses started the trickles like fine stings and now I can walk across my kidneys and it pains like a new man. It has done me $3000 worth of good." Sold by the Red Cross Drug Store.
